Holiday Farmers and Artists Market Makes Shopping A Breeze

Olney, Maryland; (November 9, 2011)--The Olney Farmers and Artists Market is planning a very special one-day Holiday Market that is free to the public on Sunday, Dec. 4, from 11 AM-3 PM. The Market is located on Route 108 and Prince Philip Drive, on the grounds of Montgomery General Hospital Thrift Shop in Olney, MD with ample parking.

Visitors can anticipate local farmers to have a bounty of fresh seasonal produce for sale along with a great assortment of wonderful holiday food and drink. To combat the cold temperatures, guests can sip on a cup of hot apple cider or hot chocolate to enjoy while shopping. Meanwhile, for the guests looking for an indulgent snack, a warming open fire will be maintained for Girl-scouts selling S'mores. For gift ideas, a wide array of juried artists, including jewelers, painters, woodworkers and photographers, will be selling one-of-a-kind handmade gifts. For those looking to provide gifts for others this holiday season, Olney's Market will also be collecting clothing for residents in need.

Special treats for adults and children alike include a visit from Santa, a Farm Animal Parade, courtesy of Wood Camp Farms, and fabulous door prizes offered every half hour. So bundle up and head to Olney for a family friendly day of eating and shopping.
